LIQUOR BILL TO CONFERENCE

House Refuses Senate Amendment and No Anti-Jug Law is Predicted—State-Wide Fish Commission—Increased Pensions—State-Wide Primary Bill Tonight.

The House of the General Assembly refused yesterday to concur in the Senate amendment for referendum election for ratification of the Grier anti-jug bill and it is now up to a conference committee to bring about whatever adjustment may be possible. Both branches of the Legislature appointed conference committees—Senate, Nash, Gilliam and White; House, Doughton, Eure, Page, Thomas, Whitford, Butler. The Raleigh correspondent of the Wilmington Star reports: "There is general belief that conference will produce the offering of a substitute after the manner of the recent White substitute allowing one quart shipments of whiskey and five gallons of malt liquors, possibly under regulation or inspection or a complete abandonment of effort for further legislation at this session."

The State-wide fish commission bill was passed by the House yesterday by a vote of 53 to 51. The amendments were concurred in by the Senate and the bill was enrolled for ratification.

The Senate set the voluntary rural race segregation bill as a special order for tomorrow night.

The State-wide primary bill was made a special order in the House for tonight.

The House committee on appropriations yesterday reported unfavorably the McRae bill for $25,000 to establish a home for fallen women, a measure that had already passed the Senate.

The joint committee on appropriations reported favorably by one vote majority a bill to increase pensions of the general classes of Confederate pensioners.

No Anti-Jug Law Predicted.

Raleigh Co., 3d, Wilmington Star: The joint conference committee on amendments to the anti-jug bill will meet tomorrow in an effort to get together on something that Senate and House can agree on. R. A. Doughton is chairman. Prediction is freely made that anti-jug legislation will fail through inability to get together.

Both houses of the General Assembly adopted resolutions Monday lamenting the death of Speaker Wooten as the loss of a young man of brilliant intellect, high character, universal popularity and promise of usefulness. T. C. Bowie of Ashe county, who has served as Speaker pro tem, was elected by the House Speaker to succeed the deceased.

The Senate Monday passed the McRae bill for a reformatory for fallen women; the Smith-Lever farm demonstration and extension bill, providing for $25,000 appropriation to make available the Federal appropriation and co-operation; the bill to establish a legislative reference library, and voted down the McMichael bill to make it 60 day imprisonment to charge more than six per cent interest.

The House Monday completed the consideration of the machinery bill and passed it on final reading, after providing that five per cent of inheritance taxes may be expended in collecting these taxes—the search for taxes that run back to 1905 under the court opinion last week holding real estate inherited subject to this tax.

Resolutions of Respect to Late Speaker Wooten—Disposition of Cases.

Immediately after the opening of court Tuesday morning the following resolutions were presented by Mr. R. C. Lawrence and seconded by Mr. A. W. McLean, and unanimously adopted:

"Resolved by the bar of Robeson county:

"First: That we heard with deep regret of the death of Emmett R. Wooten so closely connected with many of our bar by the ties of friendship and genuine affection. It is peculiarly sad that he, such a chivalrous Christian gentleman, a man who had no enemies and numbered his friends by the thousands, a man who loved and was loved by all, should be so rudely taken in the full flush of his vigorous young manhood, just at a time when he was entering into the larger life of our State, forging to the front in his chosen profession of the law, when a brilliant future was assured him and already within his grasp.

"Second: That we tender to Mrs. Wooten, his widow, our deep and earnest sympathy in this sad hour of trial and affliction, with the trust that He who doeth all things well will be with her as she walks through the valley of her grief over her irreparable loss.

"Third: That when this court adjourns it do so in honor of the distinguished dead; that these resolutions be placed upon the minutes of the court and a copy be sent to Mrs. Wooten."

Only two jury trials had been completed up to last night since the report published in Monday's paper was written. These were:

A. E. Crawford vs A. C. L. Ry. Co., non suited.

A number of orders and judgments has been signed.

FURIOUS ATTACKS FAIL

Germans Cannot Break Through Russian Entrenchments—Fighting in the West—The Dardanelles, London Dispatch, 3rd.

In their determination to leave Przemysl and drive the Russians out of Galicia, the Austro-German armies which for some weeks have been on the Galician side of the Carpathian mountains have made repeated attempts the last few days to break through the Russian entrenchments but without success.

So far as the West is concerned, the French offensive in the Champagne region continues to be the outstanding feature of the campaign. The French troops have reached the highest points on the ground north of Perthes and Beausejour and must be near positions from which they can shell the branch railway that runs to the rear of the German line and maintains communication between the German forces before Rheims and Verdun.

With the Allied fleet again bombarding the Dardanelles and the Russians pushing their offensive in the Caucasus the near East again is coming into the limelight. The Russians have scored a distinct success by the capture of the Turkish port of Khopa, on the Black Sea, from which the Turkish army in the Caucasus drew part of its supplies.

Unofficial reports say that besides the ships which are bombarding the interior Dardanelles forts, some of the fleet are throwing shells into the Gulf of Saros, so that the Turkish garrison will be subjected to fire from two sides. The Turks are concentrating strong forces for the defense of Constantinople and the Balkan States are watching the operations with intense interest. The success or failure of the Allies' attempt to open the straits means much to the Balkan Nations.

Great Britain has not replied to the American note regarding the naval war zone and food shipments.
